

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is an example of bias in the media. This is completely unreasonable! The media are supposed to be unbiased in their reporting. Why are they not also forcing their stations to air an anti-Bush documentary as well? Are the media trying to decide this election for the public?

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
